

Cornerstone
UNIVERSITY®

BUILD A LIFE THAT MATTERS

Student Handbook | 2023-2024

Introduction

This student handbook is intended to provide students with information relating to student life at Cornerstone University. The handbook includes sections on campus information, general policies, residential policies and residence life response information. Each student is expected to be familiar with the policies and regulations set forth in this entire handbook, as well as in the Cornerstone University catalog. These expectations are intended to foster an atmosphere that supports individual and corporate flourishing, thus furthering the mission of Cornerstone University as a student-focused, Christ-centered community.

The Cornerstone University Student Handbook is published annually by the Office of Spiritual Formation & Christian Community. Students are held accountable for the most recent printing.

Rights Reserved. The President and the officers of Cornerstone University reserve the right to change regulations affecting students should it be deemed necessary in the interest of the students or of the university to do so. The only official interpretations of student policies and regulations are those that are made in writing by the President and/or Vice President of Spiritual Formation & Christian Community or designee.

Cornerstone University admits students of any race, color, national and ethnic origin, disability, or veteran status to all the rights, privileges, programs and activities generally accorded or made available to students at the school. It does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national and ethnic origin, disability, or veteran status in administration of its educational policies, admissions policies, scholarship and loan programs and athletic and other school-administered programs.

Campus Safety

Campus Safety is a 24-hour/7-day a week service operation that provides safety, security, and emergency services to our university community, including its citizens and guests. Their officers are also equipped to provide motor vehicle battery boosts, to assist with vehicle lockouts, and to provide other services. The Campus Safety office and their switchboard is located in the front of Faber Hall.

Get Help

"Blue Light" emergency call boxes are located throughout the campus and are for emergency situations. Or, in an emergency, call 9-1-1 from any telephone and Campus Safety if possible. Calling 9-1-1 from an on campus phone will also automatically alert the Campus Safety switchboard.

Center for Academic Success

The Center for Student Success, located in the Verna Miller Center for Student Success, is an academic support and disability accommodations center that serves as a catalyst for learning and instruction. Our Student Academic Support serves our traditional undergraduate students. We provide one-on-one tutoring, proctored testing, Spanish placement testing, and CLC 100 – Learning Strategies class.

The Center for Academic Success also coordinates the campus-wide effort to provide a quality educational experience by improving programs and student services. This office also serves as a resource for students experiencing academic, social or financial difficulties by directing these students to the appropriate offices or personnel. Students needing to withdraw from the University during the semester should contact the Director of Student Success to begin withdrawal procedures.

The Student Disability Services offers assistance to traditional undergraduate, Grand Rapids Theological Seminary and Professional & Graduate Studies students. During the fall and spring Semesters it is open Monday – Friday from 9am-5pm. During the summer months it is open Monday – Thursday from 8-11am.

Drug Free Schools and Community Act

Cornerstone University complies with the Drug Free Schools and Communities Act of 1989. Cornerstone students agree to the policies outlined in the student handbook, requiring abstinence from the possession, distribution, and use of alcoholic beverages and illegal drugs. Failure to adhere to these standards will result in disciplinary action up to and including suspension, dismissal, and possible referral for prosecution.

Community Rationale

The use of illicit drugs and alcohol present major health risks such as potential addiction, acute and chronic illness, and in some cases, death. The concern for these risks is higher for young adults who are still both physically and emotionally young in their development. Corollary risks associated with alcohol abuse and drug use (and the impaired judgment that can occur) include injuries to self and others, accidents, drunk driving, and an increased prevalence of atmospheres conducive to sexual violence.

Legal Rationale

In addition to the policies outlined in the student handbook, municipal, state, and federal laws strictly outline penalties for the illegal use, possession, or distribution of alcohol and drugs. Specific references to the laws are available in the Office of Spiritual Formation & Christian Community.

Get Help

Alcohol and drug information, referral, counseling, and rehabilitation programs are available for students at Cornerstone. Students who need help (or who know someone who needs help) may contact the Residence Life staff, the Health Services staff, or The Well staff for more information.

Emergency Contacts

Cornerstone University is committed to maintaining a healthy, secure environment that allows members of the campus community to thrive. Our Campus Safety division is manned 24/7/365 throughout the year and a member of our Residence Life staff is accessible at all times.

Contact Information

In an emergency situation, students should contact 9-1-1 and then Campus Safety (dial 0 from any campus phone, or 616-949-5300 from all other phones. “Blue Light” emergency call boxes are located throughout the campus and can be used for emergency situations.

Emergency, Medical and Bereavement Absences

Students dealing with illness, injury, bereavement, or other situations necessitating an extended absence from Cornerstone are encouraged to contact the Office of Spiritual Formation & Christian Community for assistance. A communication plan will be implemented, ensuring that various campus constituencies (faculty, health services, The Well, residence life personnel) are apprised of essential information regarding the student’s absence without compromising confidentiality. Additionally, the network accessed by Spiritual Formation & Christian Community will be equipped to address ongoing medical needs, counseling, and pastoral care as necessary.

Academic issues (including completion of missed assignments, tests, exams, and course material) must be coordinated by the student with their professors and instructors. Spiritual Formation & Christian Community staff cannot make academic accommodations for the student, but can serve as an additional point of contact, as can the staff members at the Center for Academic Success.

If the situation necessitates a withdrawal from the University, students should contact Emory Eddie (Director of Student Success) to coordinate the appropriate paperwork.

Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA)

The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) affords students certain rights with respect to their educational records. They are:

1. The right to inspect and review the student's education records within 45 days of the day the university receives a request for access. Students should submit to the registrar, dean, head of the academic department or other appropriate official, written requests that identify the record(s) they wish to inspect. The university official will make arrangements for access and notify the student of the time and place where the records may be inspected. If the records are not maintained by the university official to whom the request was submitted, that official shall advise the student of the correct official to whom the request should be addressed.
2. The right to request the amendment of the student's education records that the student believes is inaccurate. Students may ask the university to amend a record that they believe is inaccurate or misleading. They should write the university official responsible for the record, clearly identify the part of the record they want changed, and specify why it is inaccurate. If the university decides not to amend the record as requested by the student, the university will notify the student of the decision and advise the student of his or her right to a hearing regarding the request for amendment. Additional information regarding the hearing procedures will be provided to the student when notified of the right to a hearing.
3. The right to consent to disclosures of personally identifiable information contained in the student's educational records, except to the extent that FERPA authorizes disclosure without consent. One exception that permits disclosure without consent is disclosure to school officials with legitimate educational interests. A school officer is a person employed by the university in an administrative, supervisory, academic or research, or support staff position (including law enforcement unit personnel and health staff); a person or company with whom the university has contracted (such as an attorney, auditor, or collection agent); a person serving on the Board of Trustees; or a student serving on an official committee, such as a disciplinary or grievance committee, or assisting another school official in performing his or her tasks. A school official has a legitimate educational interest if the official needs to review an education record in order to fulfill his or her professional responsibility. Upon request, the university discloses education records without consent to officials of another school in which a student seeks or intends to enroll. The university intends to forward such records on request.
4. The right to file a complaint with the US Department of Education concerning alleged failures by the university to comply with the requirements of FERPA.

Contact Information

The name and address of the office that administers FERPA is:

Family Policy Compliance Office
U.S. Department of Education
400 Maryland Ave.

School Cancellations/Inclement Weather

In case of inclement weather, students will be alerted through the WENS (Wireless Emergency Notification System - see the handbook or CU app for enrollment information). Additional cancellation notifications will be provided through CU's radio station, (91.3 WCSG), other major Grand Rapids area television/radio stations, and the CU app. Students are asked to refrain from calling the university switchboard regarding school cancellations, delays, or schedule changes. In all cases, students should exercise their own discretion regarding their traveling safety.

In case of a tornado alert, the following procedures will be carried out:

Tornado Watch: An official member of the university will declare what immediate action is to be taken by the student body, faculty and staff. The WENS system and other sources will attempt to keep university personnel informed of threatening weather conditions.

Tornado Warning: A continuous siren may be sounded by public safety authorities which indicates that a tornado or conditions like it may be imminent. Additional notification will be provided through the WENS system. Because of the nature of the buildings on our campus, individual safety can best be secured by taking immediate shelter in the closest secure building available, and positioning oneself in the lowest and most central area of the building while staying away from windows and doors, glass, and the potential for falling objects.

Contact Information

All students are requested to sign up for our Campus Safety Wireless Emergency Notification System (WENS) automatic text messaging and email service. This will enable Cornerstone to provide them with immediate emergency and advisory messages affecting the campus and surrounding areas. Students may sign up for this service on the Cornerstone app.

Section 2: General Policies

Academic Integrity

As a Christian institution of higher education, Cornerstone University seeks to maintain the highest standards of academic integrity. The faculty trusts the integrity of Cornerstone students and encourages them to maintain the integrity of the faculty-student relationship. Academic dishonesty, therefore, is a serious breach of university standards and will result in substantial penalties. Violations of academic integrity include:

- Plagiarism: Willfully submitting as part or all of one's own work material that is copied or paraphrased from another source, including on-line sources, without proper acknowledgment of that source.
- Cheating: Using unauthorized material or study aids for assistance on examinations or other academic work. Examples include but are not limited to: looking at a peer's exam, altering a graded exam, using notes without permission, etc.
- Fabrication: Submitting altered or contrived information in any academic assignment. Examples include but are not limited to: falsifying data, text material, or sources.
- Facilitating academic dishonesty: Helping another student violate this policy. Examples include but are not limited to: allowing one's work to be copied, working together on an assignment where collaboration is not explicitly allowed, doing work for another student.

See "Contact Information" for details on responses to Academic Integrity violations.

Contact Information

Violations of the academic integrity policy will result in the following actions:

First offense

Faculty Response:

- File a written report with the Dean of Assessment and Curriculum.
- The student will receive no credit for the assignment or test on which he or she has been dishonest.

Dean Response:

- A file will be created recording the student's violation of Academic Integrity policy.

Second offense

Faculty Response:

- File a written report with the Dean of Assessment and Curriculum.

Dean Response:

- The student's file will be updated to reflect a second violation of the Academic Integrity policy.
- Written notification will be given to the faculty member who reported the Academic Integrity policy violation indicating that the student who violated the Academic Integrity policy will fail the course.
- Written notification will be given to the Vice President for Spiritual Formation & Christian Community (or other appropriate individual as determined by the Dean) who will implement an accountability and mentoring plan for the student.

Third offense

Faculty Response:

- File a written report with the Dean of Assessment and Curriculum

Dean Response:

- The student's file will be updated to reflect a third violation of the Academic Integrity policy.
- Written notification will be given to the faculty member who reported the Academic Integrity policy violation indicating that the student who violated the Academic Integrity policy will fail the course.
- The student will face suspension or dismissal from the university.

Appeals Process

- A student who feels that he or she has been unfairly accused or unjustly treated may appeal the decision to the appropriate division chair. Such appeals shall be made in writing within seven days of notification of the decision.
- If a professor or student deems that the case has not been resolved satisfactorily and that a more comprehensive university response is needed, he or she may appeal to the Dean.
- Final appeals shall be made to the Dean of Undergraduate Education
- In the case of a successful student appeal, the record of the offense will be expunged from the student's file.

Education Regarding Academic Integrity Policy

Cornerstone University shall make all students and faculty aware of this policy by publishing it in the Student Handbook and the Faculty Handbook. Furthermore, faculty will reference the policy in their course syllabi. However, ultimate responsibility for knowledge of and compliance with this policy rests with the student.

For further information contact:

Dean of Assessment and Curriculum, Dr. Ryan Roberts

Alcohol

Students are expected to refrain from the purchase, possession, distribution, or use of any alcoholic beverages during enrollment periods at Cornerstone University.

Biblical Rationale

Scripture clearly addresses certain issues relating to alcohol use. Drinking to excess is portrayed as dangerous, unwise, and inappropriate for the follower of Christ. Underage drinking, in addition to being unwise, specifically violates our biblical responsibility to obey the laws of our country.

While moderate consumption of alcohol is not prohibited in Scripture, it does fall under the category of freedoms that, at times and in certain contexts, need to be relinquished for the good of others and for the health of the community. By enrolling at Cornerstone, students voluntarily agree to willingly relinquish what may be individually "permissible" for a season.

Community Rationale

One of the key learning goals of our community is to help students grow in spiritual, emotional, physical, and mental health. Numerous studies indicate that alcohol issues - particularly underage drinking and alcohol abuse negatively influence this process.

Our desire is to provide an environment - both on campus and off campus - that allows every student to thrive. Recognizing that our student body represents a variety of constituencies, backgrounds, and life experiences, we have made the choice to define a clear, easily understood standard regarding the purchase, use, or distribution of alcoholic beverages during enrollment periods.

Legal Rationale

Cornerstone complies with the Drug Free Schools and Communities Act of 1989. In addition to the policies outlined in the student handbook, municipal, state, and federal laws strictly outline penalties for the illegal use, possession, or distribution of alcohol and drugs. Specific references to the laws are available in the office of Spiritual Formation & Christian Community.

Animals

Students are not permitted to have animals on campus at any time, with the exception of approved tropical fish (permitted only in freshwater aquariums with capacities not exceeding 30 gallons). Regulations prohibit all dogs, cats, and other pets from campus unless they fit one of these categories:

- officially authorized for demonstration purposes
- in conjunction with law enforcement efforts
- pre-approved and permitted in Cornerstone University housing as a reasonable accommodation under the "Service and Emotional Support or Therapy Animals" policy

Any bicycles left unattended on campus after the conclusion of the Spring semester that are not registered with Campus Safety will be assumed to be abandoned and discarded at the discretion of Campus Safety or Campus Services.

Bullying

Bullying in any form, written, verbal, physical, or in electronic forms, is prohibited at Cornerstone. Bullying includes but is not limited to hostile, aggressive, and/or intimidating behavior that is severe, pervasive, or persistent such that it is intended or a reasonable person would know is likely to cause causes actual physical or detrimental mental health effects OR causes a reasonable person fear of physical harm or substantial emotional distress and undermines the person's ability to work, study, or participate in educational or other activities. For more information, contact the Director of Residence Life and Conduct for the full bullying policy.

Biblical Rationale

Scripture's clear and consistent message is that we are to think of and treat others as better than ourselves. We are to live as good neighbors and in Christ's love towards one another. In the fruits of the Spirit, we are to have kindness, goodness, gentleness, and self-control.

Community Rationale

For Cornerstone University to be a "thriving community of fully devoted followers of Jesus" requires that we give careful attention to any interactions and attitudes towards one another. Bullying directly disregards our community covenant.

Legal Rationale

Our policy aligns with other Michigan bullying laws such as those found within MCL380.1310B.

Chapel Attendance

Chapel sessions will be Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays at 10am. Students are expected to attend at least 25 chapel services or chapel credit opportunities per semester for full-time students.

Required Chapel Credits:

- 12 or more academic credits: 25 chapel attendances required per semester.
- 7-11 academic credits: 12 chapel attendances required per semester.
- 0-6 academic credits: 6 chapel attendances required per semester.
- Dual enrolled and consortium students are welcome to attend chapel but are fully exempt from chapel requirements.

Evensong on several Sunday evenings throughout the semester also count towards chapel credit as well as other opportunities as established by the Director of Chapel Ministries and Spiritual Formation. These opportunities will be communicated throughout the semester.

See "Contact Information" for additional details.

Biblical Rationale

The Bible points to worship, teaching, and corporate gatherings as significant events within a Christian community. While Cornerstone University is not a church, we deeply value the opportunity to draw together and worship the Lord while learning from His Word.

Community Rationale

A key component of our community is time together. Chapel serves as one of the few gathering points that draw our entire campus community - faculty, staff, and students - together. We believe not only that each student needs the experience of these gatherings, but that each student's participation is needed at these gatherings. Required chapel sessions ensure that these gatherings appropriately retain a prominent place in our campus calendar, and in the individual calendars of our community members.

Contact Information

Chapel Attendance Details:

Students are to use student IDs to scan in and out for chapel credit. Scanners are found by all entrances to the seating area, and a successful scan is registered once the scanner light turns green. Students must scan on the way in and on the way out at the conclusion of the service in order to receive chapel credit. If a student does not have an ID on their person, they are allowed up to 2 times that they can verify their attendance in person before leaving chapel with a staff member of Spiritual Formation & Christian Community before emailing chapel.feedback@cornerstone.edu and copying the staff member who can verify their attendance. All students are to carry their IDs with them when they are on campus. A lost ID should be replaced immediately at campus safety. For problems or questions with check-in, email chapel.feedback@cornerstone.edu.

Accommodations may be made for certain situations. All academic-related accommodations or exemptions are approved through school deans when commitments are directly related to course requirements (e.g., internships for credit, student practicum, clinicals). Talk to your school deans or designee for these situations, which will automatically update your chapel app requirements based on your class registration. Non-academic accommodation requests should utilize the form communicated by Chapel Ministries and Spiritual Formation by Drop/Add. For more, email chapel.feedback@cornerstone.edu.

Church Attendance

Students are encouraged and expected to become actively involved in a local church and attend regularly. To facilitate church attendance, no student activities will be scheduled for Sunday mornings. A listing of local churches is available from the Office of Spiritual Formation & Christian Community or from Campus Ministries staff members.

Biblical Rationale

Participation in a local church is a key (and commanded) component of a Christian's spiritual growth. Church involvement allows opportunities for believers to exercise spiritual gifts and provides an environment of accountability and mentoring that leads to personal spiritual growth. The church is a key agent of God's work on earth and each member of the Body of Christ is assumed to be an integral and interdependent part.

Community Rationale

Our campus community at Cornerstone offers opportunities for worship, Bible study, accountability, and service. However, Cornerstone University is not a church. All members of the community - faculty, staff, and students - are both encouraged and expected to be involved in an Evangelical local church home.

Conflict Resolution

When conflicts develop between a student and another individual, every attempt should be made to resolve that issue privately. Willingness to forgive and a desire for reconciliation must characterize one's behavior toward others.

Biblical Rationale

Scriptural instructions point to the wisdom of a gentle answer in response to wrath, to private resolution of conflicts, and to a community characterized by being "quick to listen, slow to speak, and slow to become angry." Conflicts should be resolved in a timely manner and should be marked by a willingness to extend the forgiveness that we have received from Jesus Christ.

Community Rationale

Small unresolved conflicts, fueled by gossip and speculation, can escalate quickly in the Cornerstone University. It is in the best interests of the parties involved in the conflict to resolve the issue quickly.

Get Help

Assistance in conflict resolution and mediation can, if necessary, be provided through Spiritual Formation & Christian Community and/or The Well staff.

Copyright Integrity (video/TV)

A Public Performance License is required to show movies publicly on campus at CU. It is legal to show movies in a residence hall lounge without a Public Performance License if the event is not advertised outside the residence hall where the movie is being shown, an admission fee is not charged, and CU televisions or equipment are not used to show the film.

Biblical Rationale

As Christians, we take Scriptural commandments regarding theft and the laws of our country seriously. Issues of copyright violation are against the law and are an act of theft.

Community Rationale

While publicly viewing material licensed only for personal use may not seem like a major issue, our community desires to be above reproach. We want to encourage one another toward responsible, ethical choices both through our policies and through our examples.

Legal Rationale

Cornerstone University's policy complies with the Federal Copyright Act of 1976.

Dance

Students are expected to use discretion and biblical wisdom in their choice of venue, music, and style of dancing. Dancing that is sexually suggestive or detrimental to the community is not permitted.

All dances on Cornerstone's campus must be sponsored by a recognized CU Student Organization or be approved in writing by the Office of Spiritual Formation & Christian Community. Music selections, activities, decorations, and the general environment are expected to reflect discretion and biblical wisdom.

Biblical Rationale

Dance is a part of God's good creation and expresses His creative nature. While it is clear that there are negative aspects of dance and certain types of dancing do not honor and glorify God, we believe that dance is an important aspect of God's good creation and can be used as an expression of joy, happiness and worship.

Community Rationale

Key issues for students to consider as they approach dance include the context of dance and forms of dance. In response to questions about context and form, we have chosen to continue to raise important scriptural principles and exhort our community members to follow them closely as they engage in dance – and all other choices.

Several questions can be posed to guide in this decision making process, which include: (a) Is the location of the dance conducive to the use of discretion and biblical wisdom? (b) Is the music at the dance conducive to discretion and biblical wisdom? and (c) Are the activities surrounding the dance conducive to discretion and biblical wisdom?

Dress/Clothing

Students are expected to reflect discretion in their clothing choices. Clothing should not be sexually suggestive or revealing and should be appropriate to the environment in which it's worn. Apparel advertising or promoting items that are biblically inappropriate or detrimental to the community is not permitted.

Biblical Rationale

Scripture reinforces the principle of discretion in dress throughout numerous passages as a means of expressing personal humility and propriety. Clothing choices can be a vehicle for individual expression and artistic style, but an emphasis on fashion should not take priority over the cultivation of spiritual character.

Community Rationale

Our attention to the appropriate clothing for each context demonstrates commitment to one another as brothers and sisters in Christ. In a society that is often sexually charged and suggestive, discretion in clothing choices contributes to a campus atmosphere where spiritual growth can thrive.

Drones / Unmanned Aircraft Systems

Operation of drones or unmanned aircraft systems (UAS) is only permitted over the campus of Cornerstone University by students, faculty, staff, vendors/contractors and all visitors by obtaining prior authorization from the Office of Campus Safety. Recreational use of UAS/drones on campus is NOT permitted. Authorization to operate UAS/drones within the air space of University property will be granted if:

- UAS/drone is used for educational/demonstration purposes for class credit.(Please coordinate/communicate the details of the event(s) with the Office Campus Safety.)
- UAS/drone use directly benefit the mission of the University,
- UAS/drone use meets all legal, public safety and ethical responsibilities, and,
- UAS/drone use operates within all Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) requirements.

See "Contact Info" for approval procedures.

Community Rationale

Recent popularity of owning and using Unmanned Aircraft Systems (UAS), popularly referred to as drones, as a recreational activity, and the potential for abuse of individual privacy and safety, requires that we establish institutional policy and procedures that establish acceptable operation of UAS/drones on campus. While recreational activity is valued, a higher sensitivity to individual privacy and safety is the major emphasis of this policy. Educational and/or professional use of UAS/drones is permitted with approval to operate according to guidelines as stated above.

Legal Rationale

UAS/drone use must operate within all Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) requirements.

Contact Information

To obtain authorization to operate a UAS/drone, a written request must include the following:

1. Name of the individual, and/or company if vendor/contractor, who will operate;
2. The University department utilizing the UAS/drone;
3. Specific dates and times of use;
4. Rationale or justification for using the UAS/drone on University property; and,
5. A 333 exemption, Certificate of Waiver or Authorization (COA)
6. Other documentation indicating the operator of the UAS/drone is permitted to do so by the FAA.

Use of UAS/drone for purpose of video, photos or other media production must comply with the following:

- Any intentions of using the UAS/drone for media purposes must be conveyed to Cornerstone University in advance of operating the drone.
- No reproduction, retransmission or other distribution of the images emanating from the drone device may take place without the express written consent of Cornerstone University.

Operators of UAS/drones must comply with the following for safety reasons:

1. Operate in open areas only;
2. DO NOT operate over areas that present a considerable risk of injury or damage to:
 - People, and/or
 - Property, and/or
 - Structures.
3. Operate only BELOW a maximum of 400 feet altitude.
4. Operate ONLY within the line of sight.
5. Operate ONLY outdoors and NOT inside buildings.
6. Operate ONLY during daylight hours.
7. DO NOT operate over areas where there is a reasonable expectation of privacy. (This includes flying near windows, or over an emergency incident.)
8. Clearly display the FAA registration number for UAS/drones weighing more than 0.55 pounds.

Policy Violations:

Violations of this policy by CU employees and/or students may result in disciplinary action. Operators of UAS/drones are expected to comply with all local and federal laws, and will be subject to FAA fines for improper use.

Drug Use

Students are expected to refrain from the purchase, possession, distribution, or use of any illegal drugs and/or the distribution/abuse of any prescription or non-prescription medications.

Biblical Rationale

As followers of Christ, our commitment is to cultivate the fruit of the Spirit, including self-control, in our lives. The use of illegal drugs or scheduled substances and/or the distribution/abuse of prescription or non-prescription medications that impair our judgment, hinders our effective witness for Christ, and entangles us in patterns and habits that keep us from effectively serving the Lord.

Community Rationale

The use of illicit drugs and alcohol present major health risks such as potential addiction, acute and chronic illness, and in some cases, death. The concern for these risks is higher for young adults who are still both physically and emotionally young in their development. Corollary risks associated with alcohol abuse and drug use (and the impaired judgment that can occur) include injuries to self and others, accidents, drunk driving, and an increased prevalence of atmospheres conducive to sexual violence.

Legal Rationale

Cornerstone complies with the Drug Free Schools and Communities Act of 1989. In addition to the policies outlined in the student handbook, municipal, state, and federal laws strictly outline penalties for the illegal use, possession, or distribution of alcohol and drugs. Specific references to the laws are available in the Office of Spiritual Formation & Christian Community.

Film Selection

All public film-screenings must be approved in writing by the Office of Spiritual Formation & Christian Community and must comply with the guidelines of the Federal Copyright Act. Film selections are expected to reflect discretion and biblical wisdom.

Community Rationale

Our responsibility to reflect biblical wisdom and maturity extends to ensuring that we give attention to the sensitivities of various members of our campus community. Public film-screenings within our campus community also imply a higher level of “endorsement” and therefore require careful consideration by the Office of Spiritual Formation & Christian Community.

Legal Rationale

Cornerstone University’s policy complies with the Federal Copyright Act of 1976.

Fire Safety

Compliance with local fire codes and concern for student safety necessitates the prohibition of potentially hazardous items, such as (but not limited to) open-flame lanterns, candles, and incense. In addition, tampering with fire safety equipment will necessitate disciplinary measures and/or referral to legal prosecution.

Community Rationale

Cornerstone University desires to provide a safe and secure environment for the students, faculty, staff members and guests of our campus community. This necessitates that each member of the community pay careful attention to safety and security issues.

Legal Rationale

Cornerstone University is committed to compliance with local fire codes and cooperation with local emergency service personnel.

Contact Information

Campus Safety: 616-949-5300

Fundraising and Solicitation

Any campus fundraising efforts must be reviewed and approved by the Office of Spiritual Formation & Christian Community in collaboration with the advancement office. External solicitors are not allowed on campus or in any campus building without written approval from the Office of Spiritual Formation & Christian Community. Literature and promotional material (fliers, sheets, booklets, posters, or other printed matter) must be approved by the Office of Spiritual Formation & Christian Community. Students are not permitted to give out lists of student names or addresses to external organizations or businesses.

Biblical Rationale

Biblical instruction relating to fundraising includes the principles of accountability, interdependence, sacrificial investment, and careful stewardship. Our commitment in any fundraising effort at Cornerstone is to reflect deep trust in God and His ability to provide for our needs.

Community Rationale

It is Cornerstone University's commitment to protect members of our campus community from inappropriate or excessive financial solicitations.

Legal Rationale

The regulations of the Internal Revenue Service relating to non-profit institutions such as Cornerstone University necessitate the careful development, review of, and adherence to policies regarding fundraising. Gambling

Students are expected to refrain from gambling in any form (including online) during enrollment periods at Cornerstone University.

Biblical Rationale

Biblical wisdom necessitates that Christians demonstrate good stewardship in the use of their finances.

Community Rationale

Concerns relating to gambling include: (a) the possibility of addiction, (b) the misuse of financial resources, (c) negative effects on relationships within the campus community, and (d) the atmosphere of establishments focused on gambling.

Legal Rationale

In addition to the policies outlined in the student handbook, municipal, state, and federal laws strictly outline penalties for the illegal gambling. Specific references to the laws are available in the office.

Internet

Students are expected to use discretion and biblical wisdom in their Internet usage, avoiding pornography, online gambling, illegal peer-to-peer file sharing, and illegal download or access of copyrighted material.

Students are also expected to follow the CU IT Responsible Use Policy. The full document should be reviewed and can be found on the My Cornerstone app.

Biblical Rationale

From Job's covenant "not to look on a young woman lustfully" to the Psalmist's commitment to turn his eyes from "worthless things" Scripture reminds us often to guard what we take in with our eyes. Among Paul's instructions to the Philippians we find him encouraging them to focus on that which is pure, excellent, honorable, and lovely. As followers of Christ, we make that commitment in our media choices, desiring and pursuing the spiritual fruit of self-control.

Community Rationale

Within our community we want to develop the habits of honoring, supporting, and encouraging one another to wise and discerning choices. We will seek to lovingly provide accountability and assistance to those who may be struggling with inappropriate Internet use, seeking to graciously speak the truth in love.

Get Help

Counseling, educational resources, and pastoral care are available for students struggling with Internet pornography. Students who need help (or who know someone who needs help) may contact the Spiritual Formation & Christian Community staff or The Well staff for more information.

ID Cards

Cornerstone University students are issued an ID Card with their ID number, Name, and Picture. Students are required to have their student ID with them at all times, within reason, when on campus. Student may also verify faculty and staff who are also issued a similar card.

A lost or stolen ID should be immediately reported to Campus Safety, and should be immediately replaced by going to Campus Safety.

Community Rationale

ID cards are necessary for many opportunities on campus, including using at accounting/accounts receivable, dining, chapel, library, dorm access, etc. They also act as a measure of security to readily identify students, faculty, and staff of Cornerstone.

Latex Awareness

Following the university's Latex Policy, if latex products must be used indoors, signs must be posted in the area(s) of use to alert students, staff, faculty, and visitors of the potential allergen exposure. Some places are latex free zones, including but not limited to indoor athletic facilities, food services, and dorms where students have a latex allergy. In any space, non-latex items are encouraged.

Community Rationale

Students, faculty, staff, or guests may have latex allergies. As a Christian community considering the good of others, we can abstain from using latex whenever possible. Other materials can be substituted for products that historically tend to contain latex in order to mitigate risk of exposure to those who may be allergic.

Media

Students are expected to use discretion and biblical wisdom in their media choices (visual, print, audio), avoiding all pornographic materials and demonstrating sensitivity to their own spiritual growth and the spiritual health of others in personal choices.

Biblical Rationale

Recognizing that human creativity reflects an infinitely creative God, we are grateful for the cultural expressions of the media. We also acknowledge the deeply influential role played by the media on our lives and will seek to guard our hearts, to focus on that which is pure, lovely, admirable, and excellent, and will give careful attention to the ways in which our personal media choices may affect our spiritual growth.

Community Rationale

The Cornerstone community includes followers of Christ at varying stages of ability to discern and critique media selections and varying levels of spiritual maturity. Our commitment in media choice will include a desire to carefully consider the impact that personal media choices may have on the spiritual growth and personal maturity of those around us.

Overnight

Students are expected to refrain from staying overnight alone (either on-campus or off-campus) with non-family members of the opposite sex.

Biblical Rationale

Scriptural instructions call followers of Christ to be “above reproach” in their relationships. This policy is intended to actively support, encourage, and protect members of our campus community in their commitment to purity.

PDA

Students are expected to demonstrate discretion, biblical wisdom, and sensitivity to context in their displays of physical affection. The behavior of couples should always demonstrate respect for one another and courtesy toward others.

Biblical Rationale

Scriptural principles relating to the public display of affection include consideration for the members of the community (and their convictions), commitment to sexual purity, and an overall atmosphere in which our identity as brothers and sisters in Christ is reinforced.

Community Rationale

Cornerstone’s campus community represents a wide variety of backgrounds, cultures, and personal convictions. Sensitivity to the appropriate use of physical affection and a commitment to consider carefully the needs and perspectives of others will cultivate an environment in which each student is able to thrive.

Property Usage

Cornerstone University buildings, property, and community spaces are to be used only as authorized and must not be damaged or defaced through reckless or intentionally destructive behaviors. Unauthorized access of community space and buildings (including roofs and general areas) is prohibited and is subject to a fine of up to $500.

Community Rationale

The policy regarding buildings and property is intended to preserve: (a) the safety and security of individuals within our campus community, (b) the stewardship of our buildings, and (c) the privacy of our campus residents.

Legal Rationale

Incidents of unauthorized property access or utilization may be referred to Campus Safety for documentation and/or investigation and may, if necessary, be referred to local authorities for investigation and prosecution.

Racism

Cornerstone University is committed to be a community that is free of racist expressions, attitudes, or actions. Students, staff, and faculty are expected to explore and cultivate an awareness of one's biases and to refrain from speech, apparel, decorations, or media that express racist sentiments. Growth as a community that reflects Christ's Kingdom will be fostered as each individual pursues cultural competency and the virtues that mark followers of Christ.

Biblical Rationale

Scripture's clear and consistent message is that Christ's work not only reconciles believers to God, but it reconciles us to one another. We bear witness to the Gospel and the coming Kingdom when we reject racism and pursue justice and community. Our understanding of the Imago Dei – the truth that each person bears God's image, commits us to treating each person with dignity, grace, and love.

Community Rationale

For Cornerstone University to be a "thriving community of fully devoted followers of Jesus" requires that we give careful attention to any interactions, attitudes, systems, or structures that perpetuate (whether intentionally or unintentionally) racism and racist perspectives. When racist behavior or expression surfaces we will embrace our responsibility to correct one another quickly, longing to see each person more fully reflecting Christ's character.

Legal Rationale

Our policy aligns with The Civil Rights Act of 1964 and Cornerstone's prohibition of discrimination on the basis of race, color, national and ethnic origin, disability, or veteran status in administration of its educational policies, admissions policies, scholarship and loan programs and athletic and other school-administered programs.

Reserving Facilities & CU Vehicles

Use of campus facilities or CU vehicles for special activities must be requested by the appropriate university official (faculty members, staff/faculty advisors to student organizations, and/or Spiritual Formation & Christian Community staff). Reservations must be completed through the online system administered by the Events and Hospitality department (facilities) or Campus Services (vehicles).

Community Rationale

Use of the campus reservation system ensures: (a) that the use of campus facilities and CU vehicles is fair and equitable, (b) that Campus Services staff has adequate time to clean and set up rooms for various events, and (c) that campus facilities and CU vehicles are not double-booked.

Contact Information

Facility reservations must be submitted by a staff or faculty representative. Please contact the appropriate staff or faculty member to submit a reservation request.

Right of Censorship

While recognizing the value of differing opinions and respectful dialogue in the academic process, the university reserves the right to censor information published, distributed on campus, or made available to the student body. This is to ensure that both the materials distributed and the means of distribution are consistent with the Cornerstone Confession and Community Covenant.

Sexual Harassment/Violence

Cornerstone University forbids any covert or overt acts of abuse, assault, harassment, or intimidation including, but not limited to the definitions outlined in the full Sexual Harassment and Violence Prevention and Response Policy (available at my.cornerstone.edu). The Title IX Coordinator, Kevin S. Hall (kevin.hall@cornerstone.edu) and the Title IX Deputy Coordinators (Allison Brown - Director of Residence Life and Conduct - allison.brown@cornerstone.edu, and David Veneklase - VP of People and Culture - david.veneklase@cornerstone.edu) are available to assist students and employees in reporting and responding to incidents of sexual assault or harassment. These incidents will be investigated by trained personnel utilizing the procedures outlined in Cornerstone's policy.

Biblical Rationale

Members of the Cornerstone University community affirm that men and women are image-bearers of our Creator and members of the family of Christ. We are unique works of divine creation having unqualified worth. As such, violation of a person is a violation of our Creator and of the body of Christ. Therefore, we are each mutually obligated to protect the dignity, safety, and self-respect of every member of this community.

Community Rationale

This university community is fully committed to the moral teachings of Jesus Christ and to fostering an environment in which all persons have equal opportunity to work and pursue learning freely, whether in group settings or in close relationships between students, faculty, and staff. We purpose to perform our tasks as a caring and diverse community transcending class, cultural, ethnic, gender, and racial boundaries.

Legal Rationale

Definitions of Harassment: Harassment has the purpose, effect, and potential to: (a) create an intimidating, offensive, or hostile environment, including stalking violations of the State of Michigan law and local ordinances, (b) unreasonably interfere with an individual's performance; and/or, (c) adversely affect the spiritual growth of the entire University community.

Sexual Harassment includes such behaviors as unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, and verbal or physical conduct of a sexual nature when: (a) submission to such conduct is explicitly or implicitly made a term or condition of employment, instruction, or participation in any University activity; (b) submission to or rejection of such conduct by an individual is used as the basis of evaluation in academic or employment decisions; (c) such conduct has the purpose or effect of substantially interfering with an individual's academic or work performance, or of creating a hostile, intimidating, or offensive environment. Sexual harassment also includes behaviors that contribute to or create a hostile environment serving no scholarly, artistic, or educational purpose.

"Generalized Sexist Remarks or Behaviors" include demeaning remarks or actions that are directed at individuals or groups based on their gender. "Offensive Sexual Remarks or Behaviors" include lewd, obscene, or sexually suggestive remarks or actions, which would be deemed offensive by a reasonable person in that situation. Also included are displays of sexually offensive audio and visual materials. "Sexual Advances Without Intimidation" includes sexual advances, which are accompanied by a promise of reward or a threat of punishment.

Additional definitions are provided in the CU Sexual Harassment and Violence Prevention and Response Policy.

Sexuality

Members of the Cornerstone community are expected to commit to sexual purity – appropriately reflected in either celibacy or heterosexual monogamous marriage. Premarital sexual activity, extramarital sexual activity, and romantic relationships between members of the same gender breach this commitment and are not permitted.

Biblical Rationale

The Bible clearly portrays our sexuality as a loving, beautiful part of God’s creation. Scripture also clearly delineates the boundaries within which sexual activity is both appropriate and healthy - the boundaries of a lifelong, monogamous, heterosexual marriage. Sexual activity within this context expresses the reality of marriage - that two become one flesh.

Sin has distorted and degraded sexuality, relegating it to a mere pursuit of pleasure or an exercise of power and manipulation. Scripture is clear in its warnings that sexual activity outside the boundaries outlined in Scripture is dangerous, demeaning, and destructive. The decisions made in this area can bear lifelong consequences.

Community Rationale

As a community we will seek to lovingly encourage one another toward a healthy understanding of biblical sexuality. We approach accountability from a redemptive standpoint rather than from condemnation or judgment. We affirm the truth that those who are struggling should be restored gently, with careful attention given to our own lives, lest we fall.

Our policies and practices will reflect our commitment to help members of our community build practices and habits of thought and action into their lives that will glorify God and affirm the sanctity and beauty of what He has intended for marriage.

Sexuality - Pregnancy

Cornerstone University is committed to ensuring that students who are pregnant are able to continue their education. Students will not face disciplinary action as a result of pregnancy outside of marriage. Cornerstone affirms all life-giving options, including parenting and adoption, reflecting our commitment to the dignity of each individual, equitable access to educational opportunities, and the sanctity of life.

While the University's position on marriage and sexuality affirms sexual activity only within the boundaries of monogamous, heterosexual marriage, Cornerstone commits to surrounding parents with unconditional love, support, and resources during and after their pregnancy, with the goal of helping students succeed in school and thrive as parents.

Biblical Rationale

Cornerstone University affirms the biblical truth that God creates all human beings in His image (Genesis 1:27) and that Christian communities are called to offer grace to one another (Galatians 6:1-2). The following three beliefs are derived from this scriptural foundation:

- 1) Women and men facing unplanned pregnancy will be surrounded with unconditional love and grace.
- 2) Because the unborn are distinct, living, and whole human beings from the moment of conception, abortion (the intentional killing of an unborn child) is wrong. Parenting and adoption are life affirming and biblical options in situations of unplanned pregnancy.
- 3) Those who have experienced an abortion will not be shamed or rebuked. Rather, they will be offered help in the healing process and surrounded by a supportive, redemptive, and restorative community.

Community Rationale

The community of Cornerstone staff, faculty, and students seeks to surround pregnant and parenting students with love, support, and resources. Throughout pregnancy, students can expect a safe environment to share their personal struggles or ask for help.

In keeping with biblical, scientific, and philosophical evidence, Cornerstone affirms that the unborn are human persons and have the inherent right to life. However, anyone who has experienced an abortion will be offered a safe environment for healing. Resources for post-abortive counseling can be found in the "Get Help" tab.

Speech

Students are expected to reflect biblical standards in their speech, avoiding lying, deception, gossip, slander, and unwholesome language (including, but not limited to swearing, sexual innuendo, and hate speech).

Biblical Rationale

Recognizing the tongue's power to build up or destroy, the speech of a follower of Christ is to be characterized by truth, encouragement, edification, and self-control. Vulgar, lewd, blasphemous and hateful language is specifically condemned by Scripture and does not reflect our commitment to live in a Christ-like manner.

Community Rationale

Our community desires to reflect the ways of Jesus Christ in our speech. This will extend not only to the type of speech we will avoid, but extends to our commitment to proactively speak the truth in love, to actively use our words as a means of encouragement, comfort, and blessing.

Get Help

Students who have been a victim (or who know a student who has been a victim) of hateful or harmful speech should contact a representative of the Office of Spiritual Formation & Christian Community.

Theft

Cornerstone University forbids any acts of theft, vandalism, or willful destruction of property. Incidents of theft, vandalism, or willful destruction of property will necessitate disciplinary measures, financial restitution, and/or referral to legal prosecution.

Biblical Rationale

Theft is directly prohibited in biblical commandments. Respect for the property of others is reinforced throughout the pages of Scripture.

Community Rationale

Cornerstone University strives to cultivate a community based on trust. Each incident of theft, vandalism, or willful destruction of property chips away at an atmosphere of trust.

Legal Rationale

Incidents of theft, vandalism, or willful destruction of property will be referred to Campus Safety for documentation and/or investigation and may, if necessary, be referred to local authorities for investigation and prosecution.

Students who have been a victim or who have information regarding theft, vandalism, or destruction of property should contact a representative of the Office of Spiritual Formation & Christian Community and Campus Safety.

Tobacco

Students are expected to refrain from the purchase, possession, distribution, or use of any smoking materials or products (including but not limited to cigarettes, cigars, pipes, chewing tobacco, hookah and e-cigarettes) during enrollment periods at Cornerstone University.

Biblical Rationale

While tobacco use is not specifically addressed in Scripture, biblical principles instruct followers of Christ to demonstrate care for their bodies and to avoid becoming “enslaved” to a substance through addiction.

Community Rationale

Our community is committed to helping its members pursue health in every area of life. The addictive and destructive nature of tobacco usage is well-documented, leading us to choose to maintain a smoke-free campus and to prohibit the use of any form of tobacco during enrollment periods.

Get Help

Information relating to tobacco usage, referral, and addiction counseling/assistance are available for students who are available for students at Cornerstone. Vehicles and Human-Powered Conveyances

Motorized vehicles must be legally registered, appropriately insured, and properly maintained. They are permitted only on designated roadways and parking lots and their operators are expected to demonstrate caution, common sense, and consideration at all times.

Students are expected to demonstrate courtesy and safety in the use of human-powered vehicles and other conveyances (including, but not limited to bicycles, skateboards, scooters, and skates). Use of these items is not permitted in any campus building.

Community Rationale

As members of a Christian community, our desire is to demonstrate consideration, courtesy, and a commitment to the safety of others in the way that we interact. We also are committed to demonstrating good stewardship by taking care of the resources entrusted to us.

Weapons

Weapons of any kind are prohibited on Cornerstone's campus (including buildings, grounds, and vehicles on campus property). This includes firearms (operable or inoperable), ammunition, archery equipment (including bows, arrows, and crossbows), tasers, knives longer than three inches or fixed-blade knives (with the exception of cooking utensils in university apartments), and non-lethal projectile items (including, but not limited to paintball guns, BB guns, and airsoft guns).

Community Rationale

Cornerstone University is committed to providing a safe and secure environment for the members of our campus community.

Legal Rationale

Discovery of any weapons (or items referenced in the weapons policy) will be referred to Campus Safety for documentation and/or investigation and may, if necessary, be referred to local authorities for investigation and prosecution.

Section 3: Residential Policies

Babysitting/Childcare in the Halls

Students are not permitted to provide childcare or “babysit” (paid or unpaid) in campus facilities.

Community Rationale

For the safety, security, and privacy of all involved, it’s important to preserve the primary focus of our residence halls as living spaces for the assigned residents of our campus community.

Check-In/Check-Out Procedures

Residential students are expected to follow the check-in and check-out procedures established and explained by the Residence Life personnel. These procedures will outline available check-in and check-out times, forms to complete, and the process for addressing damages and losses.

Community Rationale

Following the established check-in/check-out procedures: (a) facilitates clear communication between students and staff members (as well as other departments), (b) ensures that damages are documented and scheduled for repair, and (c) ensures that our Residence Life staff have accurate information on who is in the residence hall.

Contact Information

Director of Residence Life and Conduct, Allison Brown

Christmas Decorations

Christmas decorations including artificial Christmas trees, Christmas lights, artificial wreaths, and artificial greenery may be displayed four weeks prior to Christmas hall closing and must be removed by Christmas hall closing. During the allowed time frame, Christmas lights can have no more than 600 mini lights total and no more than three strings connected to each other. Students may be required to remove lights during this time if it overloads the circuits in their living area.

Live Christmas trees are permitted only in public lounges.

Curfew

From the beginning of orientation through the end of Fall Break, first year residential students are expected to be in their respective residence halls by 12:00 am Monday - Friday and 2:00 am Saturday and Sunday. Avoiding curfew or assisting others in avoiding curfew will necessitate disciplinary measures.

Community Rationale

The use of a curfew contributes to an environment that equips first-year students to thrive by facilitating residence hall interaction and ensuring a more safe and secure environment as these students transition into university life.

Dart Boards

Because their installation and use damages walls and doors, dartboards are not allowed in residence halls.

Doors

Fire doors and entry doors to buildings must not be propped open.

When holding doors open during open halls, residents must use the appropriate door stops. The use of bricks, rocks, weights, etc to prop doors is prohibited.

Community Rationale

Doors should not be regularly propped open for safety purposes. Access to the building should be limited to those who are residents and their guests. Fire doors that are open do not provide the protection for which they are installed. Propping doors in inappropriate ways cause damage to the door and the hydraulic closing mechanism on the door.

Contact Information

Director of Residence Life and Conduct, Allison Brown

allison.brown@cornerstone.edu

Fire Code and Fire Safety

Compliance with local fire codes and concern for student safety necessitates the prohibition of potentially hazardous items, such as (but not limited to) extension cords or multiple outlets without surge protection, open-coiled/plate heating implements (such as space heaters or hot plates), LED or other types of rope/strip lighting, and non incandescent/fluorescent open-bulb lighting (such as halogen, sun lamps, or open bulb Christmas style lights). Appliances such as (but not limited to) microwaves, toaster ovens, irons, coffee makers with open heating elements, personal air conditioners, and refrigerators exceeding 3 cubic feet are not permitted in residence hall rooms other than the kitchen areas of apartment style residence halls (such as Babcock and Crawford).

Campus Safety, in conjunction with Residence Life staff and local emergency service personnel, regularly conducts fire safety programming (such as fire drills). Students are expected to proactively respond and to cooperate fully with any and all personnel involved in a fire alarm response. Fire safety also necessitates that hallways, stairwells, and emergency exits be kept clear of obstruction at all times.

Community Rationale

Cornerstone University desires to provide a safe and secure environment for the students, faculty, staff members, and guests of our campus community. This necessitates that each member of the community pay careful attention to safety and security issues.

Legal Rationale

Cornerstone University is committed to compliance with local fire codes and cooperation with local emergency service personnel.

Contact Information

Campus Safety: 616-949-5300

“Blue Light” emergency call boxes are located throughout the campus and can be used for emergency situations.

In an emergency situation, students should contact 9-1-1 or Campus Safety (0 from any campus phone).

Furnishings

Concerns for student safety and compliance with local fire codes prohibits the construction of lofts or the use of personal mattresses in residence halls. Students are permitted to utilize their own furniture to personalize their rooms, however non-university furniture must be removed prior to check-out. University-issued furniture may not be removed from residence hall rooms.

Contact Information

Director of Residence Life and Conduct, Allison Brown

Hall Meetings

Residence Life residential or commuter meetings are held as necessary. Students are expected to attend all meetings unless prior approval has been granted by their Resident Director.

Community Rationale

In addition to communicating essential information, Residence Life meetings provide opportunities for residence hall interaction.

Contact Information

Director of Residence Life and Conduct, Allison Brown
allison.brown@cornerstone.edu

Hallways and Lounges

In order to provide a safe environment and to avoid preventable damage, use of athletic equipment in the residence halls is not permitted.

Community Rationale

A commitment to good stewardship of campus resources and to a safe and secure environment necessitates that each member of the community pay careful attention to safety and security issues.

Keys

Students are not permitted to copy, lend, or distribute residence hall keys. Loss of residence hall keys must be reported immediately and will necessitate the replacement of any related locks at the student's expense.

Community Rationale

Providing a safe and secure environment for the students, faculty, staff members, and guests of our campus community requires careful attention to the distribution of keys and access to buildings.

Contact Information

Director of Residence Life and Conduct, Allison Brown

Open Hall

Individuals are permitted in the residence hall of the opposite gender only during pre-approved hours and under guidelines designated by the Residence Life staff. Permission for access outside of open-hall hours must be granted by a member of the Residence Life staff and must be announced to the residents of the area accessed. In all cases of open hall hours when rooms are occupied by mixed sexes, doors must remain open and lights must remain on.

Biblical Rationale

Scriptural principles point out our responsibility to be “above reproach” in our interactions with members of the opposite sex. Positively stated, Scripture points to the beauty and benefits of healthy “brother/sister” relationships in Christian community.

Community Rationale

Open halls are a valuable resource in promoting community on campus, allowing residents to visit members of the opposite sex in a healthy context focused on friendship, fellowship, and growth in Christian maturity.

Contact Information

Open Hall hours and specific regulations are subject to change. Please contact a Resident Director or Residence Life staff member for more information and monitor Cornerstone communication outlets. Current posted hours are:

VO, Cook, Quincer, & Pickitt = Th/Fr 7-11p; Sat 7p-midnight; Sun Noon-8p

Keithley & Central = Wed/Th/Fr 7-11p; Sat 7p-midnight; Sun Noon-8p

Babcock & Crawford = Tue/Wed/Th/Fr 6-11p; Sat Noon-midnight; Sun Noon-8p

Director of Residence Life and Conduct, Allison Brown

Overnight Departure

Residential students are expected to notify their Resident Director and/or Resident Assistant prior to overnight departure.

Community Rationale

Clear communication with the Residence Life staff ensures that they are able to respond appropriately in an emergency situation.

Contact Information

Director of Residence Life and Conduct, Allison Brown

allison.brown@cornerstone.edu

Overnight Guests

Overnight guests must register with the appropriate Residence Life staff member and complete all applicable paperwork (including a signed parental release for individuals under the age of 18). Overnight guests must be of the same gender of the host students and must be between the ages of 12 and 25. Overnight stays are limited to three consecutive nights and to no more than seven nights in any given semester.

Community Rationale

For the safety, security, and privacy of all involved, it's important to preserve the primary focus of our residence halls as living spaces for the assigned residents of our campus community.

Personal Property

The university does not assume liability for personal items. Students are encouraged to carry personal property insurance. Students should report any losses immediately to Campus Safety.

If a student experiences a loss (examples may include losses due to theft, weather related losses (caused by flooding or due to power outages), or unforeseen incidents (such as loss from a pipe bursting, shower overflowing, etc), students may reach out to Spiritual Formation to submit a request for benevolence. The benevolence committee will review and help as they can, dependent up funding availability.

Quiet/Consideration Hours

Students are expected to demonstrate consideration regarding noise levels at all times in the residence halls. Residence halls have designated quiet hours from 11pm to 9am every night throughout the semester and 24 hours a day during finals week.

Biblical Rationale

Followers of Christ are repeatedly encouraged to look not only to their own interests, but also to the interests of others, demonstrating humility and willingness to sacrifice personal preferences for the cause of the group.

Community Rationale

Our campus community reflects a wide variety of responsibilities (including work schedules, training schedules, and other commitments), study habits, and noise "tolerance." Designated quiet hours ensure that the residence halls remain conducive to study, reflection, and rest.

Residency

Because living on campus is an integral part of a Cornerstone student's experience, all students up to age 21 are required to live on campus with a few exceptions as spelled out in the Housing Policy Exemption Application form (available in the "Contact Information" section).

Students who are age 25 and older must secure written permission from Residence Life staff to live in the residence halls. Off-campus housing is a privilege that may be reconsidered in the event of a significant breach of the policies outlined in the Student Handbook.

Commuting students are required to annually complete an off-campus residence information form (available in the “Contact Information” section).

Community Rationale

The goals of a spiritually contagious, academically excellent, richly resourced, and culturally diverse environment are best reinforced and accomplished when students are living together in community for this season. We believe the economic and social investment made to live on campus pays great dividends in the lives of our students.

Room Damages

Residents are responsible for any damage to their rooms. Resident student should immediately report any damage to their Resident Director. Each room will be checked by a Residence Life staff member for damages at the termination of residence. All items needing repair or replacement will be charged to the last occupants unless previously noted on the room condition inventory. Damages will be charged equally to the occupants of the room unless they are clearly the result of individual resident action.

Contact Information

To report damages please contact a Resident Director or:

Room Decorations

Students are expected to use discretion and biblical wisdom in their room decoration choices. Decor should not be sexually suggestive and should be appropriate to the environment in which it's displayed. Decor advertising or promoting items that are biblically inappropriate or detrimental to the community are not permitted including but not limited to stolen street signs and tobacco, drug, and/or alcohol endorsements. Items may only be secured by blue painters tape, sticky tack, poster putty, or tacks/staples (apartments). Other adhesives and hangings are subject to the approval of the RD/RA.

Biblical Rationale

As followers of Christ, our commitment is to glorify Him in every area. A focus on what is pure, lovely, admirable, or excellent can be enhanced or diminished by what surrounds us as decoration.

Community Rationale

Students are encouraged to decorate their rooms as a means of individual creativity and artistic expression. Living in community, however, also necessitates that personal preferences be balanced by consideration for others.

Storage

Limited storage space is designated for each of the residence halls. Any possessions left in unauthorized places or left in storage without permission may be disposed of. No flammable items may be stored in the residence halls. Students assume complete responsibility for anything stored. Since the university does not assume liability for personal items, students are encouraged to carry personal property insurance.

Contact Information

To enquire about storage space please contact a Resident Director or a member of the Residence Life staff.

Terms of Occupancy

University housing opens and closes for student occupancy as noted in the campus master calendar. Exceptions must be approved in advance by the Director of Residence Life and may be subject to an additional charge. Students vacating a residence hall during a semester are refunded on a pro-rated basis (refer to the academic catalog) excluding vacation periods, unless they have been dismissed or suspended from the university, in which case no refund is made available. Vacation housing must be requested in advance (with the exception of posted campus “black-out” dates) and may be granted on a limited basis. The university reserves the right to use rooms over vacation periods. The university reserves the right to terminate occupancy and/or suspend a student from the residence hall as a result of disciplinary action.

Contact Information

Director of Residence Life and Conduct, Allison Brown

Windows/Screens

Window screens are not to be loosened or removed from windows. Windows are not to be used as entrances or exits, nor are they to be used for socializing. Nothing should be hung, thrown, or passed through windows.

Community Rationale

The policy regarding windows and screens is intended to preserve: (a) the safety and security of our building residents, (b) the stewardship of our buildings, and (c) the privacy of our campus residents.

Section 4: Residence Life Response

Discipline - Overview

Responsibility for student discipline has been delegated to the Dean for Traditional Undergraduate Education, Vice President for Spiritual Formation & Christian Community, and their staffs by the President and the Board of Trustees. The purpose of discipline is to assist individual and community growth and learning, and to aid the university in maintaining an environment conducive to learning and growth in Jesus Christ.

Disciplinary responses will seek to encourage responsible behavior, be based on sound scriptural and educational principles, be consistent with the goals and objectives of the university and be administered with compassion in such a way as to protect the best interest of both the individual student and the university community.

Personal growth and maturity are encouraged most when each member of the university community uses self-discipline and shares the responsibility to care enough about others to confront them when appropriate. The responsibility to confront one another in a loving manner should flow out of natural relationships with friends, peers, faculty and staff. This approach, if functioning properly, should enable inappropriate behavior to be corrected on a personal level.

Students having difficulty with an issue in their life, whether it be in violation of campus standards or not, are strongly encouraged to seek help from some member of the campus community. When students come forward seeking help, every effort will be made by the university to bring healing, wholeness and reconciliation. Professors, The Well, Health Services, and Residence Life staff members are eager to listen and help students through difficulties.

Discipline - Procedures

Many disciplinary actions are of a counseling nature and take place between the student and the Residence Life staff. Suggestions and warnings may be provided, with a view toward preventing or correcting problems before they become major issues or inappropriate lifestyle patterns. However, the Director of Residence Life has the responsibility to oversee the process of determining appropriate disciplinary action. The disciplinary action taken in any particular situation may reflect a consideration of such factors as the nature of the offense, the student's previous experience, the student's attitude, the student's candor and cooperation, and the welfare of the student and the university community.

All students are required to respond immediately to any official request from a Cornerstone University employee. This includes requests for interviews or meetings, identification, responses to letters, and other reasonable directives by a university official or faculty member in the authorized performance of reasonable directives by a university official or faculty member in the authorized performance of his/her duties. In addition, it is unacceptable to lie, provide false information, or refuse to cooperate with a university official. Any individual refusing to cooperate with a disciplinary body or official shall be subject to further disciplinary action. If a student will not attend a disciplinary meeting, the meeting shall proceed through the regular disciplinary process and a response determined without the student present.

An advisor may be selected by the student to provide advice and counsel throughout the course of an investigation. The advisor may be present with their advisee at any meetings but may not directly represent or advocate for their advisee.

The following options for action are a part of disciplinary procedures. Variations of the disciplinary actions listed below may be created when deemed appropriate. Responses may include:

1. Confrontation or Citation: A written notice and/or oral discussion about the inappropriate behavior or attitude.
2. Restitution/Reconciliation
3. Service or Work Projects
4. Fines: Specific fines have been established for various offenses and are listed in the residence life staff manual. This listing is available to students upon request. In addition, fines may be levied at the discretion of the staff member dealing with the situation.
5. Behavioral Contract: An agreement between the student and staff that specifies conditions the student agrees to adhere to for a designated period of time.
6. Learning Response: Activities in which the student engages to facilitate necessary learning related to his/her inappropriate behavior. These activities can include papers, journaling, service activities, and/or meeting with a mentor.
7. Disciplinary Reprimand: A written statement to a student which states the infraction and should serve as a firm warning and suggest improvement in future behavior.
8. Disciplinary Probation: A conditional student status for a stated time. This probation may restrict the student from participation in activities including but not limited to intercollegiate athletics, music ensembles, cross cultural service or study trips, or campus leadership positions. Specific terms of the probation may vary and include other items or provide for regular counseling or discipleship. A review of the student's behavior will be made at the conclusion of the probationary period to determine future status.
9. Disciplinary Dismissal: A separation of the student from the university without privilege to visit campus or campus-related events unless granted in advance by the Director of Residence Life or AVP for Spiritual Formation & Christian Community. The individual's case will be subject to review to determine eligibility for readmission.
10. Disciplinary Expulsion: A permanent separation of the student from the university without the possibility of readmission.

Discipline - Process of Appeal

A student has the right to request a review of a disciplinary decision made by a member of the Residence Life staff and/or a disciplinary committee. All requests must be made in writing to appeal point referenced in the discipline letter and must be submitted within 48 hours of the disciplinary response. A complete appeal will reference the student's area of concern with the original decision under one of these categories:

- Procedural error or personal bias in our investigation of the situation.
- Additional information that has come to light since our investigation began.
- The sanctions are not commensurate with the behavior reported.

During the review process, all aspects of the original disciplinary response are in effect unless otherwise indicated by the Director of Residence Life, Associate Vice President for Spiritual Formation & Christian Community, or Dean of Undergraduate Education.

Students are permitted one request for review for any given disciplinary response. In all cases, the decision of the person reviewing the disciplinary decision is final. In some situations, the appropriate staff member may convene a disciplinary committee to consider requests for review. The disciplinary committee will make a decision in the form of a recommendation to the appropriate above administrators. The student to whom the disciplinary action was directed must originate a request for review. Neither parents nor legal counsel may submit a request for review, but they (or another advisor) may assist the student in the preparation of the appeal.

Hold

In the event that a student fails to complete required disciplinary sanctions (or submit required documentation such as health information in a timely fashion) a registration hold may be placed on the student's account. This hold will prevent ongoing registration for classes, schedule changes, or the release of transcripts. The university will always attempt to communicate with the student that a hold is being placed on his/her account, as well as the reason for the hold. Prompt attention to these notifications will enable the student and the university office(s) to rectify the situation and remove the hold.

Psychiatric and/or Emotionally Disruptive Behavior Withdrawal

In the event that a possible emotional or psychiatric disorder results in a student engaging in behavior that is potentially harmful to himself/herself and others, otherwise renders him/her unable to meet institutional standards, or is disruptive to the community, the following steps may be taken:

1. The Director of Residence Life or a designee shall meet with the student and the student's parents in order to facilitate a voluntary withdrawal and a prompt referral to a psychiatric facility for evaluation and treatment.
2. The university has the right to have an outside, independent psychological evaluation made of the student's fitness, at the student's expense, to continue as a member of the university community.
3. An informal meeting may be held. The student may be accompanied by a family member or another person of the student's choice from within the university community.
4. Where a determination is made that withdrawal is appropriate, a statement of the reason for the decision will be forwarded to the student's parents.

5. Fees will be refunded according to the policies stated in the university Academic Catalog.
6. The withdrawal will be recorded in the student's permanent record as a medical withdrawal.
7. In emergency situations, the university reserves the right to act outside the normal meeting process and to act in accordance with its best judgment for the benefit and health of the student and for the best interest of the university and its students.

Student Grievance and Complaint

At times, students may feel that they have exhausted their efforts to resolve a concern they have experienced at Cornerstone. In this case, all current students have the option of registering a formal complaint with the Associate Vice President for Spiritual Formation & Christian Community or the Associate VP of Academics. Unresolved complaints with any aspect of the student experience pertaining to the curriculum (classroom or classroom related activity) should be directed to the Associate VP of Academics. Unresolved complaints with any aspect of the student experience pertaining to the co-curriculum (out of the classroom activity) should be directed to the Vice President for Spiritual Formation & Christian Community.

A formal complaint consists of the following elements: written, hard copy statement of intent to register a formal complaint; nature and description of the complaint and all parties involved; efforts taken thus far to resolve this complaint. If no effort has been made by the complainant to resolve the issue informally, the complainant will be asked to do so prior to the Vice President for Spiritual Formation & Christian Community or Dean of Undergraduate Education making efforts to resolve the complaint. The complainant must be clearly identified. Anonymous complaints cannot be accepted.

The office that received the formal complaint will attempt to resolve the issue by discussing the issue with the parties involved and rendering a final decision regarding the complaint. The University's accreditation agency requires that a list of formal complaints, and the University's efforts to resolve them, be provided during accreditation visits. However, individual identities will be kept confidential in this reporting procedure.

Section 5: Pandemic Protocols & Policies

Pandemic Protocols & Policies - Overview

The Cornerstone University COVID-19 Taskforce has collaborated with faculty and staff at Cornerstone and with networks of colleges and universities to develop the following protocols and policies. These policies are subject to revision as new guidance becomes available.

Additional information is regularly updated on CU's Coronavirus Information page:

<https://www.cornerstone.edu/university-offices/health-services/coronavirus-information/>

Biblical Rationale

The church, throughout history, has embraced challenges as opportunities to bear witness to Christ and His Kingdom. The COVID-19 pandemic provides us with a unique season of virtue formation. Scripture reminds us that trials, for the believer, can be encountered with joy, knowing that the trials produce perseverance and maturity (James 1). With that in mind, as an institution and as individuals, we choose to face this season with joy, confident that the Lord will use it to prune us and grow good fruit in our lives and in our organization. Scripture's reminder is that we are interdependent beings, called to humility and hospitality that is expressed in our consideration of others (Philippians 2). This reality is borne out in our daily willingness to embrace practices that consider not only our individual interests, but the needs of others and the flourishing of the community.

Legal Rationale

These policies and protocols are developed in an effort to align with federal, state, and local guidelines, and to demonstrate proper respect to one another.

Pandemic - Masks

At times, when legally required by executive order, masks must be worn in all indoor public spaces and in all outdoor spaces where physical distancing cannot be maintained. Following an order requires humility and allows us to reflect hospitality and care for the health of others (and their family and friends who may be more vulnerable to serious complications from COVID-19). Towards this end, the institution has purchased a CU branded mask for all faculty, staff, and students.

As required at times, all students, employees and visitors are expected to wear masks that sufficiently cover the nose and mouth when on campus, except in the following situations:

- When physically distanced outdoors.
- Individuals working alone in private office or work spaces that provide physical distancing.

- Students with hearing impairments should inform the accommodations office. The accommodations office will inform related professors.
- While seated, physically distanced, and eating in the dining commons and other designated areas.
- When in your own apartment or dorm room.

Pandemic - Physical Distancing

If requested during the year, Cornerstone University will comply with all applicable Kent County Health Department and Michigan Executive Order distancing guidelines. All students, employees, and visitors are expected to maintain 6ft physical distance from others while on campus. As a means to help facilitate compliance with this guideline, CU will adjust furniture and seating arrangements, as able, and/or reduce capacity in classrooms, Miller Library, Christ's chapel, the dining commons, and other public spaces on campus. In high traffic areas, directional guides will be posted.

Pandemic - Residence Halls

In cases of increased cases, residence hall access may be limited to residents of each building. We recognize that interacting with others in the residence halls is a valued part of our campus community. At times, however, we will need to minimize interaction in these living spaces to mitigate the possibility of virus transmission.

In such cases, residence halls may be set up to provide for physical distancing and to mitigate against virus transmission. Our furniture in each room has been set up to provide physical distance between roommates (and suitemates, where applicable) and may not be changed. We may also place a limit on additional furniture for our residence halls. With the exception of the apartments, no additional seating furniture or shelving may be permitted.

Pandemic - Quarantine

Quarantine is no longer required when there is a possible exposure to COVID-19. However, you should take precaution to stay physically distant when possible and you should wear a mask for ten days. Monitor your health and note any signs or symptoms you may have. You should take a COVID-19 test five days after the exposure. Even if you have a negative test after five days, you should take another COVID-19 test if you feel symptoms of sickness.

Pandemic - Isolation

As a means of mitigating the risk of virus spread, members of our campus community may be asked to isolate themselves for a season based on illness and/or a positive test for COVID-19.

Individuals required to isolate themselves are subject to the following policies:

- (1) Individuals in isolation need to suspend any contact with others and should not attend in-person classes, meals in the Dining Commons, athletic practices, student events, or any public gatherings.
- (2) Residential students requiring isolation will need to either return home (if their family has determined that this can be done without unnecessary risk) or move to one of our isolation apartments.
- (3) If living off campus, students requiring isolation need to remain at home during the isolation period. Students are encouraged to work with their family to follow the best practices necessary to minimize their exposure.
- (4) If individuals are isolating on campus, Food Service or Residence Life staff will deliver meals.
- (5) If possible, students are encouraged to continue course work during the isolation period but will not be attending class.
- (6) Students in isolation should follow-up with any instructions from their healthcare provider.
